Abstract

This paper deals with the prophetic traditions of medicine and whether they are revealed by God (wahi) .

I went through the main and different opinions and evidences on this issue and concluded that such traditions are God revealed through (wahi) . This conclusion is based on the tow new following reasonings :

First : the prophetic medicine traditions were not trapped with the fallacies which were common in era and environment of the prophet , peace be upon him , which means that they are not opinions based on local knowledge .

Second : In these traditions , there is prophesied scientific knowledge in many aspects including man Creation and prevention and cure of disease .

The conclusion is that such facts did not come by chance and therefore they cannot be but God revelation.
